BOSS OPERATION Manager (BOM)

Broadcast Scheduling Platform

Dimetis BOSS OPERATION Manager is a resource management system for planning and scheduling the required media transmission connections and resources in a broadcast environment. Predefined processes and guiding templates simplify operations significantly.

The SOA-based client/server architecture enables all central processes to be handled by the server and contains the required data storage. In addition, the client provides an efficient user friendly GUI that enables personnel with less technical knowledge to fully utilize the system and have an active part in the planning process.

BOSS OPERATION Manager plans and coordinates all video, audio and command connections for indoor and outdoor events and assists ordering resources from external suppliers. These mechanisms streamline the processes, while keeping costs to a minimum.
